Overview

Have you ever wanted to fly? A fictional story based on an invention of Leonardo da Vinci, Leonardo's First Flight depicts Leonardo's first attempt to achieve human flight. In order to pursue this goal, he must use his talents in both art and science. He must also discover the role of nature in leading the way for invention. In this book, Leonardo tries to find a way for people to fly, like birds or bats. He works to design wings and then starts his journey. As he flies, he faces many obstacles, and he must seek help from an unexpected friend. Full of bright illustrations by Lisa Harrold, the book will enchant both children and adults.
